

ABC Express 2.17.0: Skye-only login plus navigation that aligns Android and iOS

1) Pro-E login has been disabled. The application provides login and access to Skye orders. This change has been made to both iOS and Android.

2) On Android, action buttons of 'Sync' and 'Logout' have been added to the top of the Main Menu in the title bar. No longer is the user required to open the Android hardware menu for these options. Packing list synchronization occurs directly from the top of the Main Menu.

3) On Android, navigation has been added to the title bar of all screens past the Main Menu. The navigational elements provide the actions of 'Back' and 'Next' in the left and right of the title bar respectively. The label of these navigational actions is often context-based, giving further hints as to the purpose of the navigation. No longer is the user required to utilize the Android hardware back button.

4) On Android, the title bar is now black rather than gray, and the text remains white throughout the screens.

5) On Android, the distance measurement that would appear in the left title bar during the service event workflow has been removed to provide access to the new 'Back' navigation action.
